With the cleverQ access control module, barcodes are added to the waiting tokens when tickets are issued. These allow access only after the waiting person has been called.

The barcode on the ticket is read by a barcode reader at the door and is assigned individually for each ticket.

Targeted control

You determine who gets access, when and where

No disturbances

Prevent uninvited guests from gaining access during counselling interviews

Barcodes

The barcodes can be printed manually on tickets or digitally output on the e-ticket.
